Dear Dr. Marian Kolencik, PhD.,

I would like to extend my congratulations on the adoption by the Council of the European Union of the document entitled "Conclusions on addressing chemical, biological, radiological, nuclear and explosive (CBRN-E) risks at mass gatherings, with particular attention to major sporting events." CBRN safety and security preparedness for mass gatherings is an essential element of national resilience and stability.

In this context, I would like to express my sincere appreciation for the trainings delivered and the guidance materials prepared in support of Cambodia's CBRN preparedness for the 2023 Southeast Asian Games. I also congratulate you and your partners on the successful implementation of the SAFE-STADIUM project, which provided a strong foundation for our preparations for this major event.

Once again, please accept my congratulations and my thanks—extended also to all SAFE-STADIUM project partners—for your contribution to strengthening global CBRN security.

Yours Sincerely,

H.E. General PHORN NARA, Ph.D.
Secretary General of the NACW
